

The Charismatic Charlie Wade Chapter 3833

When Fei Kexin checked in and moved into the Presidential Suite at Shangri-La, Charlie was working with Jasmine Moore and Isaac Cameron to determine the follow-up details of the auction.

Right now Charlie attaches great importance to the security of Shangri-La.

After all, in the face of the rejuvenation pills whose value may exceed 10 billion US dollars at any time, the temptation is too great, I don't know how many people secretly think about it.

Moreover, when the time comes, almost all the top wealthy people will come. In this case, it is even more important to ensure the personal safety of these wealthy people.

Otherwise, if something goes wrong, who else would dare to participate in the auction in the future.

Therefore, Charlie asked Shangri-La's security system to complete a new round of upgrades within the next fifteen days.

At the same time, the abbas Army had to be notified to send a large number of elite personnel from Wanlong Hall before the start of the auction to strictly ensure the safety of Shangri-La.

Although Isaac Cameron was under great pressure, he still assured Charlie very firmly: "Master, don't worry, I will try my best to ensure that the auction will be foolproof!"

Charlie nodded lightly, and said, "This year, we will try to make a good start. I have instructed to start building a brand new auction center. After the auction center is completed, there will be a dedicated venue for the Huichuntang auction. NS."

After speaking, Charlie said to Jasmine Moore: "Jasmine Moore, the auction center will reserve 20% of the investment share for the moore Group at that time. In the future, this will become a new industry jointly created by the Wade Family and the moore family, and our revival The auction will continue to be held, and this auction center, in addition to the Huichundan auction, at other times, Jiqingtang can be used at will, as your own home."

Jasmine Moore was surprised and delighted, and at the same time said nervously: "Master Wade, this auction can have such a big influence in the upper class. It depends on your rejuvenation pills. Ji Qingtang can come out to host this auction. , Jasmine Moore is already fortunate for the third life. In the future auction center, how can Jasmine Moore dare to be favored by you again..."

Jasmine Moore couldn't be more clear about Ji Qingtang's several kilograms.

This time, I can borrow Charlie's Rejuvenation Pill to gain popularity among the richest and richest class in the world. This is a great opportunity that Jasmine Moore can't even dream of. The moore family is even more of a great favor.

What's more, a brand-new auction center started with an investment of at least several billion yuan. Charlie only allowed himself to invest 20%, but the auction center was used by Ji Qingtang most of the time, which accounted for Charlie. It's cheap, she didn't dare to accept anything.

Seeing that she didn't know how to look good, Charlie smiled and said seriously: "Jasmine Moore, the auction center is not a big investment. You have also seen the popularity of Rejuvenation Pills. If you shoot one or two a year, you will be able to harvest. These top-notch billionaires have tens of billions of dollars. An auction center can handle a few hundred million dollars at most, and it's not even worth a quarter of a rejuvenation. So you don't need to be so polite with me. We will have long-term strategic cooperation in the future. Being fettered by such a little thing."

Jasmine Moore nodded gratefully and said seriously: "Master Wade, Ji Qingtang will be responsible for the daily operation of the auction center by then, and all the income from the operation will be handed over to the Emgrand Group!"

"Don't." Charlie waved his hand: "The income generated by your operations is normally divided into proportions according to the investment ratio, but if you use Jiqingtang for your own use, you should not report the income."

Seeing this, Jasmine Moore didn't insist anymore, and said affectionately in his eyes: "Good Master Wade, Jasmine Moore knows!"

Charlie nodded in satisfaction, and then asked her: "How is the registration now?"

Jasmine Moore hurriedly said, "Master Wade, there are already nearly 700 people who have signed up."

With that said, she opened a document on the tablet, handed it to Charlie, and respectfully said: "Master Wade, all the registration information is here. We have already started reviewing the asset information they submitted. We are waiting for registration. After the deadline, we will verify and sort the assets of all applicants, and select the top two hundred people with the most strength to participate in the auction."

Charlie nodded slightly, then flipped through the registration materials.

Among the 700 people currently enrolled, the person with the most available data and the highest assets is Bernard Elnor, who is now ranked third in the world's richest list.
