

Chapter 42 Apology

This question, together with the fact that Maximilian dared to fight back, instantly stunned all the relatives of the Griffith family!

Grandpa Samuel was also out of his mind with anger, and he said angrily.

"How dare you rebel against us? How dare you question me, you useless loser? And you dare to fight back?"

Grandpa Samuel's face was totally blue at this moment.

Franklin and Andrew were right, this Maximilian had a hard bone. If he died in the future and the Yunsheng Pharmaceutical Company was given to Victoria, the company would definitely be taken away by this asshole!

No, it was absolutely impossible!

When Franklin on the side saw that Maximilian dared to fight back, he was instantly happy in his heart, and he angrily said with a sinister expression on his face.

"Maximilian, you are reckless! What do you want? You even want to make a move on grandpa?"

After shouting, he immediately turned his head to the Grandpa and said.

"Grandpa, our Griffith family absolutely can't tolerate this guy. Look, he even dares to disrespect you! If you're not around in the future, he might turn the sky upside down!"

That was a heartbreaking statement!

Originally, Grandpa Samuel was thinking about this matter, and now that Franklin mentioned it to him, it instantly magnified the anger and worries in his heart to infinity.

"If you dare to grab the cane again, I will expel you and Victoria, from the Griffith family, and remove your name from the Griffith family tree!"

Grandpa Samuel threatened Maximilian in a deep voice. That was a heavy statement!

Maximilian froze in his heart, as he never expected Grandpa Samuel to act like this at all.

Laura on the other side heard it and got anxious!

Samuel actually threatened to drive Victoria out of the Griffith family. She couldn't afford the consequences of that.

She was scared and immediately rushed up with eagerness and anger, and slapped Maximilian violently across the face, berating him,

"Maximilian, you're crazy! How dare you ignore what Grandpa Samuel says? Do you want Victoria to be kicked out of the Griffith family? Do you want our family to get involved just because of you? Get down on your knees and apologize to Franklin and Grandpa Samuel!"

It was over. It was over!

If it was because of Maximilian that Victoria was implicated, Laura would kill him!

Maximilian was stunned, the corners of his eyes twisted with the cane clenched tightly in his hand. He looked at Victoria, who was dying, weak and pale.

In that moment, all his anger turned into ashes.

For Victoria, he would do anything, and he would bear anything. Maximilian slowly let go of the cane in his hand.

BANG!

The moment he let go of his hand, Grandpa Samuel angrily beat Maximilian on the shoulder and rebuked.

"How dare you question me? You loser! I'll beat you to death!"

With that, Grandpa Samuel beat on Maximilian's shoulder one after another.

The BANG sounded solidly throughout the conference room.

All the relatives of the Griffith family looked on coldly, with cold smiles on their faces.

Well Done.

Just now, they really thought Maximilian was going to be lawless, but now it seemed that he was still a trash.

At that moment, Victoria, who was on the side, had managed to catch her breath and clear her mind a bit while she quinted her eyes, looking at the blurred figure in front of her.

Lee was being punished for her.

"Maxi.....Maximilian." Victoria shouted out with difficulty, her voice was weak.

And then, she got up, pushed through the crowd in front of her, and exerted all her strength to grab the cane that Grandpa Samuel had once again swung towards Maximilian's back.

"Grandpa, don't beat him. I was wrong, it was my fault, don't blame him."

Victoria fell straight to her knees while begging with tears in her voice.

Maximilian was covered in cold sweat, clenching his fists tightly, and his heart warmed up when he heard Victoria's plea.

He knew exactly what Victoria's nature was, and she was stubborn.

It wasn't her fault, and she would never admit it.

But now she, for his sake, was willing to get down on her knees and admit the mistake.

Grandpa Samuel was tired of beating and took a few breaths, snorted coldly and chided.

"You know you're wrong now?"

While protecting Maximilian, Victoria nodded her head, tears welling up in her eyes, and she said, "I was wrong."

On the other side, Franklin and the others sneered, watching the scene with full attentions.

"Victoria, I'm afraid it's too late for you to admit your mistake now, the Graham Group has already taken the contract back. If you really want to correct your mistake, you should bring it back."

Franklin spoke viciously at this moment.

This matter was initiated by Franklin.

At that time, what Ralphy Graham said was also very clear, but he just ignore the truth, and put the entire fault on Victoria and Maximilian shouder off his responsibilities.

Now, Franklin still wanted Victoria to wipe his ass for him.

His heart was extremely vicious!.

Victoria was stunned. She didn't know Ralphy Graham, and what was going on with the contract?

"I I"

Victoria was stammered, and she clenched her fists in hesitation.

Grandpa Samuel wasn't going to dwell on it, and he ordered directly,

"For this matter, you're on your own. If I don't see the contract tomorrow, you and Maximilian will get out of the Griffith family, and there will be no place for you in the company any more!"

After saying that, Grandpa Samuel led the people straight out of the conference room.

Inside the large conference room, only Franklin, Iris and a few others stayed unmoved.

Franklin stared at Victoria in an arrogant manner and said.

"Victoria, you only have one day to fix this. I hope you take your time, or you'll be kicked out."

Following that, he turned his head toward Maximilian, with incomparable resentment in his eyes, clutching his broken right arm, and said fiercely,

"Maximilian, you owe me an arm, and I'll claim it with double shares. Wait for me!"

After saying that, Franklin hurriedly went out, as he had to rush to the hospital to check his arm.

Soon, inside the conference room, Maximilian and Victoria were left behind, and Laura was standing by the side with a resentful look in her eyes.

Maximilian hurriedly went to help Victoria up.

But, Clap! A crisp slap sounded.

After Victoria got up, she directly raised her hand and slapped Maximilian on the face. Her face was full of grievance, crystal tear drops hanging from the corners of her eyes, and she shouted, "Why are you doing this?"

Maximilian was confused, standing still at a loss.

He read too much grievance and disappointment and hatred in Victoria's eyes.

"I..." Maximilian tried to explain, but Victoria warned directly.

"Keep your nose out of my business from now on! Do you know how much trouble you've gotten me into? The Graham Group contract is gone, and if we don't get it back tomorrow, we'll be thrown out of the Griffith family and the company. In the future, who will earn money to support the family? Sissi still in hospital, how can we pay the medical bills? Your mom needs money to treat her illness too, why are you doing this?"

Victoria was clearly full of grievance, and once she finished the sentence, tears rolled down from her eyes.

Although Victoria knew in her heart that Maximilian went to Graham Group alone for her. But he screwed up everything today.

In her heart, Victoria wanted to thank Maximilian, but she also hated him and was disappointed.

She didn't know what to do.

Maximilian looked at Victoria's desperate eyes, his heart hurt, and he said nervously.

"Victoria, trust me, I can take care of the contract for you. Besides, I will make them pay for all the humiliation they have done to you today."

Hearing these words, Victoria became even more annoyed. She clenched her fists, shouting,

"Shut up! When can you stop your bullshit? You're obviously not capable of doing it, so why do you have to act like you can solve all my problems for me every time!"

After saying this, Victoria directly turned around, covering her face, and ran away.

Maximilian looked at her back, his fist tightly clenched, and his heart chanting, "Victoria, trust me!"

And then, he took a deep breath, took out his cell phone and dialed Wilfred Collins's number. A respectful voice immediately came from the other end of the phone,

"What can I do for you, young master?"

"I want Yunsheng Pharmaceuticals owned by the Griffiths to lose all their partners, and all of them have to kneel in front of Victoria to beg for her forgiveness!"

Maximilian said in a cold voice.
