

Chapter 46

Harvey York thought for a while and said, “I will go back later...”

“Is anything the matter?” Mandy Zimmer was curious. Her husband—the live-in son-in-law had never gone out in the past three years. What matter could he have?

Harvey thought for a while and said, “I’m going to work. What else could I do other than that?”

“What kind of job?” Mandy was a little relieved. This useless husband was finally willing to make some progress after three years.

Harvey shrugged and said, “I’m working as an assistant for the classmate who lent me the money. He returned to Niumhi recently. I came to help him buy a car just now.”

Mandy suddenly realized and asked curiously, “What does he do? If he’s working in the construction industry, maybe he can collaborate with our family.”

Mandy was a little anxious while speaking of this. She was afraid that Harvey would tell her that his classmate worked in the construction industry.

After all, Mandy knew that she did not have any influence in the Zimmer family, let alone Harvey.

“It’s just a small investment company, and it isn’t good enough to compete in the market.” Harvey said casually. Although he wanted to disclose the truth for a split second, he felt that it was still not the right time after thinking about it carefully.

He noticed that Mandy had gradually changed her view of him in the past three years. She even had a slight affection toward him.

If possible, Harvey hoped that Mandy would like the current him. He did not want Mandy to treat him differently just because he had suddenly become rich again. ①

Mandy was sensible and she stopped asking after seeing Harvey hesitated to say anything more. She thought for a while and said, “Since you are working now, I will tell my mother later that you don’t need to do the house chores at home. We can just hire a nanny.”

“Okay, it’s your call.” Harvey nodded.

Mandy thought for a while. She suddenly stared at Harvey and said, “Harvey, let me ask you. That day when you were asked to be the hostage and the Zimmer family even treated you like that. Are you mad at us?”

“Of course,” Harvey said. He continued after seeing the slight change in Mandy’s expression, “But I’m not mad at you...”

“Why?” Mandy asked unconsciously.

Mandy’s face was a little ruddy when she heard his words. She did not know if she was shy or embarrassed.

The atmosphere between the two of them had become a little ambiguous.

At this moment, Mandy's cell phone suddenly rang, breaking the atmosphere...

Mandy answered the phone a little awkwardly. She then said, "Harvey, I have to go back to the company to deal with something... Do you need a lift?"

"No, the place where I work is just nearby." Harvey smiled.

"Alright then... Remember to come back for dinner tonight." Mandy blushed and drove off after saying this. She never thought that she would ask Harvey to come home for dinner one day.

Harvey slightly smiled seeing the red Porsche driving away. Mandy might become his true wife soon.

Meanwhile, in the automotive city, Angel Quinn was afraid that Kevin Quinn would vent out the anger on her, so she found an excuse and sneaked off.

Although Kevin was a little angry, he remembered that he still had work to do. Thus, he ignored Angel at the moment. Instead, he gathered a group of senior executives in the company to line up outside the exhibition hall and wait for the arrival of the CEO of York Enterprise.

Several people's legs were starting to sore after waiting for more than ten minutes. However, there was not a figure in sight.

“Why hasn't he come yet? Could it be that he isn't coming?” Kevin had some issues. The investment from York Enterprise was too important for his automotive city. If there was no such capital for the turnover of funds, his automotive city would have gone bankrupt in minutes.

He tried hard to be patient and quickly called Yvonne.

“Hello, is this Miss Xavier? Yes, yes. I’m Mr. Quinn —the CEO of automotive city. You told me in the morning that your CEO would like to visit our company and give us some guidance on our work.” Kevin said politely. He was still nodding and bowing although he was only talking through the phone. In York Enterprise, Miss Xavier said indifferently, “Yes, it’s been almost an hour since the CEO has gone there.” 1

“What? He’s already here? But why didn’t I see anyone?” Kevin was dumbfounded. “Miss Xavier, I don’t know what your CEO looks like and what car he drives. Do you mind giving his car’s plate number?”

Yvonne thought for a while and said, “Our new CEO is a modest man. Anyway, he is tall and thin. He looks like he is in his twenties. If you see someone riding on a tattered electric bike, that’s him.”

Chapter 47

“Electric... electric bike?” Kevin spoke inadvertently. The corner of his eyes twitched, and a bad premonition surfaced within his heart.

“Yeah, an electric bike. I initially wanted to send him there, but he rejected my offer.” Yvonne said, “When you meet Mr. York, remember to be polite. I have said a lot of good things for you this time. Then only he reconsidered investing in your automotive city. If you neglect him, I can’t help you.”

Yvonne hung up the phone after saying this. She was still busy sorting out the documents.

The beeping sound then came from the cell phone. However, Kevin felt the buzzing in his head at this moment.

Mr. York, low-key, electric bike...

Oh, sh*t! Could it be that it was him?

Kevin was so scared that he was about to pee when this thought came to his mind. The next moment, he quickly ran to the lobby and pulled the little chief who had entertained Harvey just now. He said sternly, “Go, no matter what method you use, go and bring Mr. York back here!” The little chief was confused. “Mr. Quinn, are you talking about the guy who lives off a woman?”

“What are you talking about? It’s none of your business! Don’t talk nonsense, hurry up, and go get him!” Kevin glared at her and scolded, “Useless thing, hurry up and bring him here. If you can’t do it, then you’re fired!”

“You guys better forget what you have seen just now. No one is allowed to talk nonsense, or I will dismiss you!” Kevin looked anxious after saying this. If Harvey was the CEO of York Enterprise, the way he treated him just now, and also, he wanted to go after his wife...

The cold sweat broke out on his back as soon as he thought of this.

‘What’s wrong with these rich people?! Can’t you just show off your wealth properly? Why are you trying to be modest?!’ 2

At this moment, Kevin was full of regret to the point that he was about to hammer himself to death.

Meanwhile, the little chief did not dare to say anything. Although she was sulking, she still ran out of the exhibition hall quickly.

A few minutes later, the little chief found Harvey who was charging the electric bike.

“Sir, Mr. Quinn invites you to go back!” The little chief sighed and said in a complicated tone after watching this scene.

She could not understand why Mr. Quinn would suddenly ask this live-in son-in-law to go back.

Harvey did not even look at her and said indifferently, “Do you think that automotive city is the City Hall? Asking me to stay and leave as you please? I won’t go!”

The little chief almost cried after listening to Harvey’s words. She grabbed his hand and quickly said, “Sir, please, I apologize for my rude behavior toward you just now. But if you don’t follow me back, I will lose my job!” 1

“You...if you don’t go back with me, I shall die here!”

The little chief blushed while saying these words.

She had always looked down on poor people.

However, she never thought that she would have to beg a poor guy in such a low voice and even threatened him with her death.

Harvey looked her up and down a few times. He was helpless when he saw that she was about to commit suicide if he refused to go back. He then said, “Alright, I’ll go back with you, but my electric bike has not been fully charged yet. Come and help me push it.”

“Okay! Okay!” The little chief did not care how embarrassing it was to push the electric bike at this moment. She could even carry the electric bike as long as Harvey was willing to go back.

A few minutes later in the automotive city.

The little chief invited Harvey to the general manager’s office politely.

“Mr. York!” Kevin suddenly jumped up from the office desk and walked up with a smiling face after he saw Harvey.

Harvey sat on the sofa casually and glanced at this guy. He then said coldly, “It is said that women are two-faced. However, I never expect a shameless guy to change his attitude this fast too. So, what now? You’re inviting me back here to bow down to me?”

Kevin’s face slightly darkened. Nonetheless, he was not sure about Harvey's identity at this time.

Hence, he could only hold back his anger and said cautiously, "That... Mr. York, are you the new CEO of York Enterprise?"

Harvey did not respond immediately, instead, he smiled vaguely and said, "Why? If I'm not the CEO, are you planning to drive me away again?"

"No, I wouldn't dare! Even if you're not him, you're still a guest!" Kevin smiled. "I don't know if Mr. York..."

Harvey did not bother to care about him. He then dialed a number in front of Kevin...

"CEO!" A respectful female voice sounded from the other end of the phone. It was Yvonne's voice.

Kevin could feel a 'crack' in his heart and he felt dizzy. He then kneeled on the floor straight away.

Chapter 48

“Yvonne, please pass the message down. Terminate the automotive city project that has been discussed in the morning.” Harvey York said and did not even bother to look at Kevin Quinn.

“Yes!” Yvonne Xavier responded simply.

After putting this old-model phone on the table, Harvey looked at Kevin who was almost kneeling on the ground at the moment, and said with a smile, “Mr. Quinn, why are you bowing to me? I’m a worthless trash. I can’t afford it.”

Kevin did not dare to stand upright. He laughed subserviently. “Mr. York, what are you talking about? Didn’t you say it just now? If I beg you to come back, I have to kneel and call you Father...”

“Don’t do it. I’m not that unlucky to have a son like you.” Harvey waved his hand.

“Yes, yes. I’m not worthy. I’m not worthy. I’m so ignorant before, but I know that Mr. York is a generous man. Please have some mercy.” Kevin’s face stiffened.

Harvey was indifferent. He was flipping through the magazines on the desk at will.

Kevin gritted his teeth when he saw Harvey’s attitude. He grovelled a few times at the next moment. He then said deeply, “Please forgive me, Mr. York!”

Only Kevin knew how bad the book value of this automotive city was. If there was no strong external aid to inject capital, he would struggle in maintaining the capital chain. If that was the case, the company would close down. He would have nothing left.

Moreover, he also heard it just now. Mr. York who was in front of him had initially considered continuing to invest in the automotive city. However, due to his attitude...

When he thought of this, he did not even dare to have any hatred toward Harvey but only dare to feel regret and apprehension.

Harvey finally put down the magazine in his hand and smiled after seeing this scene. “Mr. Quinn, I really couldn’t afford your big bow. You should stand up. Otherwise, what will your employees be thinking about if they saw what you are doing.”

“Yes, yes!” Kevin got up respectfully and stood beside Harvey, acting as an attendant.

“Hey, cousin, I just...” Kevin sighed. At this moment, he saw Angel Quinn opening the door and walking in. She had already left but suddenly remembered that she still had something to say, so she came back.

As soon as she came in, she saw the useless live-in son-in-law—Harvey sitting on the sofa like a boss, while her cousin—Kevin was standing on the edge nervously like an attendant.

The atmosphere dampened at this moment.

Kevin was indescribably embarrassed. He could not wait to jump off from the second floor at this moment.

As for Harvey, it did not matter, he did not even look at Angel.

“Well done, Harvey! You come back and threaten to blackmail my cousin, or did you come to negotiate terms with my cousin? Are you only willing to divorce if you have the money...?”

Kevin had already interrupted her before she had finished speaking. “Go out first, don’t talk nonsense ...”

Kevin had pushed Angel out of the office door while he was still talking. However, he turned around quickly and said, “Wait a moment, I’ll take care of the matter...” 2

Harvey motioned him to close the door and then said calmly, “You should have seen it. I am a low-key person. Even my wife doesn’t know much about me. I don’t want some unimportant people to know about my identity. So, you should know how to explain to her, that includes your employees too, understand?”

“Understand! Don’t worry, Mr. York!” Kevin was not stupid. He immediately understood what Harvey meant, and kept nodding.

Kevin took a deep breath and resumed his initial stance after getting out of the office. He stared at Angel and said. “Don’t you know that you have to knock first before entering my office?”

“Got it, I’ll remember it next time.” Angel stared at the absent-minded Harvey in the office. “Cousin, what’s the matter? Did you apologize to him just now? Or did you beg him? I’m telling you it’s not necessary. He’s trash. You don’t have to care about him!”

“This...” Kevin was quick-witted. He then said, “His electric bike just broke down. He thought it was caused by one of my employees. So, he came to rock the boat. I invited him to the office so that he would not make a big fuss outside and ruin the environment...”

“Oh, I see!” Angel just came around to realize what had happened. She then despised. “Cousin, trash like him would always try to bluff wherever he goes. You must not be nice to him. Just order someone to beat him and drive him away!” 1

“Shall I call the police for you?”

Chapter 49

“No need. No need.” Kevin said. “Someone may think that something bad has happened here if you call the police. It may affect the business if we can’t explain it... I’ll deal with him. I’ll just give him some money to send him away. It was not worth it for this kind of person...”

Kevin felt that the cold sweat was about to wet his shirt while he was talking.

‘It’s entirely your fault! As Mandy’s best friend, you do not know about her husband’s true identity and even encouraged me to go after her. Are you so eager for me to die?’

“Cousin, why are you so sweaty? Are you hot?” Angel did not notice anything and asked curiously.

“The weather’s a bit hot, a bit hot...” Kevin said awkwardly.

“Oh, then that’s fine. By the way, you don’t need to give him too much later, just thirty dollars will do... You can be rest assured about Sister Mandy. I'm here, I'll surely help you get her!" Angel made a cheering gesture and then said goodbye with a smile. She did not want to go into the office anymore. She felt sick looking at Harvey.

At this moment, she did not realize her cousin's sullen expression—he was about to choke her to death.

Kevin only returned to the office after Angel had left. He then bowed and said cautiously, "Mr. York, I have taken care of the matter. You can be rest assured. She did not doubt your identity."

"Oh." Harvey stood up. "Then I'll go first. I have to buy a car elsewhere."

"This...Mr. York, what are you talking about? This is the automotive city. Didn't you fancy that Porsche Panamera earlier? That car is surely good enough for you..."

Harvey shrugged his shoulders and said, "The car is pretty good, but the owner of the place doesn't want to cooperate with me. So, I can't help it."

"What are you talking about?" Kevin broke out in cold sweat. "To express my sincerest apologies, you can pick one of the cars that you fancy in our shop. I'll give it to you for free ..."

"Oh? Are you kidding me or are you being serious? If it's true, then I'll pick one."

How could Harvey not know? This Kevin was just pretending to be nice and polite. He did not mean to give the car to him at all. At this moment, he deliberately smiled and said.

Kevin was trying to please him, and said, "Including that Porsche. If you are interested in it, I will have someone to go through the procedures for you."

Harvey nodded and said, "Okay, then I want the Porsche. Remember to pay the vehicle and vessel tax for me. I will pick up the car later."

"Huh?"

Kevin was stunned at this moment.

‘Aren’t all the rich people arrogant and like to show off? He’s just pretending to be nice and polite. What does he really want...?’

“Why? Are you regretting it?” Harvey said and smiled vaguely while looking at Kevin’s sh*tty expression.

Kevin was shocked. He then hurriedly said, “No, no. I am just thinking that this car suits you. It matches your temperament. I will arrange for you to pick up your car immediately...”

He quickly called the little chief while talking. He told her to go through the procedures for Harvey as fast as possible. Although he was smiling the whole time, his heart kept bleeding throughout the process.

The little chief saw the general manager giving the Porsche to Harvey for free. Although she was surprised, she did not dare to ask more and promptly went through the procedures.

After she had left. Kevin wiped off the cold sweat and said, “Mr. York, you have already bought the car. How about the investment...”

Harvey smiled and said, “Have you forgotten that I had already ruled against it just now?!”

Kevin was shocked. This was the first time he met with such an unpredictable rich guy. He had already given the two million Porsche to Harvey. However, Harvey had no intention of continuing to invest in the automotive city. This was equivalent to him giving away two million for nothing.

Kevin had the urge to ask security to come in and beat Harvey. Nonetheless, he did not dare to do it at this moment because he knew that the Yorks were the ones behind York Enterprise. If he dared to lay a hand on Harvey, he might not be able to see the sun tomorrow.

He did not even dare to talk nonsense. He could speak to Harvey cautiously. After the paperwork was done and the car keys were handed over to Harvey, Harvey stood up as if remembering something, and said, “By the way, I heard that you are coming after my wife lately, and you are very happy.”

Kevin was startled. He finally realized what he had forgotten. At this moment, he could not bother to save face. He immediately kneeled on the ground.

“Mr. York, please forgive me. I promise that Mandy and I will...No, no, no. I will keep my distance from Mandy...I don't have that kind of intention at all. It was Lilian and Angel's fault. They kept trying to put us both together. I was also obsessed for a while. Please, sir, I beg you, have mercy...” At this moment, Kevin had done everything except grovelling. What a joke. Hitting on the daughter-in-law of the Yorks, did he want to die? Kevin certainly wanted to choke Angel to death at this moment.

Harvey nodded and said, “Well, I don't care whether it was intentional or unintentional. If there's a next time, I will definitely kill you.”

Chapter 50

“Yes, yes!” Kevin nodded quickly. He did not dare to think about the collaboration at this moment.

After a while, he sent Harvey out of the showroom and saw him driving away in the Panamera. Then only Kevin realized that his whole body was soaking wet.

“Mr. Quinn, I don’t understand why you...” The little chief looked puzzled.

Slap!

Kevin slapped her. “Do I have to explain to you whenever I do something? Remember! Whoever dares to spread even half a word about what happened today, I will kill him!”

After leaving the automotive city, Harvey saw that the time was a bit late. Thus, he did not return to the company. Instead, he went to the mall to buy something after sending a message to Mandy, preparing to take it home.

On the other hand, Mandy felt a little shy when she learned that Harvey was going home. However, she also finished her work quickly and returned home.

In the living room, Lilian was holding her phone, her expression was a little awful. Senior Zimmer had just called her and scolded her just now, asking her to bring Mandy and Harvey to go to the Zimmer family to explain about the contract tonight.

Although she did not know what happened, Lilian unconsciously felt that Harvey must have caused some serious trouble again.

Her expression changed when she saw Mandy came home. She said solemnly, "Why are you back so early today? Where is that worthless trash?"

Mandy said softly, "Mother, he just sent me a message, saying that he will be back in a while."

"Okay! Let's not talk about him!" Lilian was mad the entire day. She stared at Mandy. “Tell me. What’s the matter with you today? Angel said that you met with Kevin and left within minutes, what the hell is going on?!”

Mandy hesitated and said, “Mother, I met Harvey!”

“What about him? Don’t tell me that you are moved by him because of the previous hostage incident.”

Lilian was annoyed. “I’m telling you, Mandy. I’ll never change my view of that trash just because of that little incident!”

“Think about it carefully. During the three years of marriage, have you been happy for a single day?

Look at other people’s husbands and your husband!

Look at how our status in the Zimmer family has declined over the past three years! If it’s not because of this hapless trash, we won’t be so unlucky! Anyway, you have to go on a date with Kevin tomorrow whether you like it or not! Do you understand?!”

She then took out her cell phone and dialed a number while she was talking. The name displayed on the screen was Kevin.

“Aunt Yates, is there anything?” Kevin was talking softly on the other end of the phone. He started breaking a cold sweat. He would not dare to answer the call if he did not think of Harvey’s low-key instructions.

Lilian glared at Mandy. She then smiled and said, “Kevin, Mandy was a little uncomfortable at noon today. She might have neglected you. Please don’t take it personally. I’ll call the shots for both of you. How about having a meal together tomorrow?”

Her tone was so gentle as if she was talking to her son-in-law.

Kevin who was on the other end broke out in cold sweat and wetted the shirt that he had just dried. He was a little awkward and said, “Aunt Yates, I think... Mandy is excellent, but I don’t deserve her. I’m not the one for her...”

“Huh?”

“Also, I think she and Harvey make a good couple. They are a good match. I will not try to separate them anymore. It’s ominous.” Kevin hung up the phone quickly after he finished talking, for fearing that he might accidentally say something wrong.

He was planning to find Harvey sometime again. How dare he hit on Mandy? Was he not seeking death?

“This...” Lilian was confused. What was going on? Did Kevin not always treat her daughter like a goddess? Why did he become like this suddenly?

Meanwhile, the rumble suddenly came from outside the villa. Lilian glanced over unconsciously. She was shocked.

A brand new special edition of Porsche Panamera stopped at the gate of the villa.

What shocked Lilian, even more, was that the person who got out of the car at this moment was actually...
